

Jane Austen/Australian Regency Dance

23 April, 2021. Samford

“What a charming amusement for young people this is, Mr. Darcy! There is nothing like dancing, after all. I consider it as one of the first refinements of polished societies.” Pride and Prejudice by Jane Austen.

At the time Jane Austen was frolicking in the ballrooms of England, the early settlers in Australia were enjoying the same tunes and dances, particularly in the elite ballroom of Government House, Sydney. Join us for a lively romp through the dances beloved by both Jane and our ancestors.

Thanks to Moreton Bay Regional Council's support through the Healthy & Active programme.
